Welcome to Durham University

Working for us

www.durham.ac.uk

“No matter where my life and career have taken me, Durham has always held a special place in my heart.”

Sir Thomas Allen, Chancellor of Durham University

Durham Cathedral.

Welcome to Durham University

I am delighted to welcome you to Durham University – I hope your association with us will be a long and happy one.

When you join Durham, you will become part of a supportive and diverse community that is committed to creating a positive working environment and excellent opportunities for our staff.

Durham has an international reputation, not only for world-class research and education, but also for providing students with a rich and well-rounded learning experience through our college communities and extensive extra-curricular activities. As a member of staff, you are also part of these communities so you can enjoy learning, sport, music, cultural activities or just our beautiful surroundings.

Durham University offers an inspiring and exciting place to live and work. Durham City is full of history and tradition with a World Heritage Site at its heart, along with charming streets and beautiful riverside paths. Our contemporary Queen's Campus, situated near the lively town of Stockton-on-Tees, is purpose-built to deliver our world-class courses and enjoys a striking waterfront setting.

Durham County and the wider region is home to spectacular countryside, a fascinating heritage and vibrant cities. Whatever your interests, you will find much to discover and explore. And wherever you go, you can be sure of receiving the warm and friendly welcome for which the people of the North East are renowned.

Whether you are considering applying for a position here, or are soon to take up your new role with us, we hope you will find the information in this booklet useful.

Professor Stuart Corbridge
Vice-Chancellor and Warden

Why Durham University?

A staff survey revealed:

91% are proud to work for Durham University

90% say it is a good place to work

81% feel inspired to do their best work every day.

We asked some of our staff why they chose to work at Durham, and have included a selection of their responses below.

“Durham University is difficult for any serious scholar to resist; steeped in history but defined by ambition and excellence, Durham is the perfect place to develop one’s work both by advancing ideas in the classroom and by subjecting them to the rigorous but collegial scrutiny of this dynamic community of scholars.”

Fiona de Londras, Professor of Law

“I came to Durham to experience professional life in a small town, but have found that Durham is international and broad beyond my imagination, while still remaining intimate and enchanting.”

Bruno Van-Dyk, Director,
Development and Alumni Relations Office
Relocated from South Africa

Cafe Aroma, Queens Campus.

“Durham University was attractive to me for its state-of-the-art facilities, collegial and friendly working environment as well as the opportunity to teach students of the highest calibre. From a personal perspective, its good schools and the friendly atmosphere of the North East were also important. It is a nice place to raise a family.”

Dr Conor O'Reilly, Research Fellow, Durham Law School Relocated from Portugal with his partner and children

“Why would I want to be anywhere else? I feel I've 'come home'. Durham epitomises all that is excellent in University education in England: the atmosphere of discovery through research – that the next great thing is just waiting to be found, the strong sense of community, and the privilege of sharing this part of life's journey with so many young people who are the future of not only this country but the world.”

Susan Jones, Head of Major Gifts, Development and Alumni Relations Office

“...I particularly relished the opportunity to become involved in the colleges, as they provide a unique environment to meet fellow colleagues and the students.”

Sophie Daniels, Policy Support Officer

“...most of all, we were impressed by our future colleagues and staff at the University. For us it was a big move coming from the United States, but the staff at Durham University made the transition very manageable, and our Business School colleagues have been very welcoming.”

Prof Robert Lord and Prof Rosalie Hall, Business School Relocated from Ohio, USA

“In order to stay in academia, your research needs to compete with the best in the field. You can only deliver such results in an environment that is challenging and gives you the support you need to accomplish your aims. That's why I chose Durham.”

Dr Michael Knoll, Research Fellow, Business School Relocated from Germany with his partner and children

“Durham University represents an employer which invests in its employees, providing opportunities to train, career progression and excellent benefits!”

Pauline Dowson, PA to the Director of Catering

Durham University: Shaped by the past, creating the future

Durham University is distinctive - a collegiate university with ancient traditions and modern values. We seek to achieve the highest distinction in research and scholarship which make a real difference to societies world-wide. We are equally committed to excellence in all aspects of learning, education and the transmission of knowledge.

But Durham University is much more than that. The World Heritage Site at the heart of the City of Durham has been a leading centre of scholarship for over 1000 years, while our cosmopolitan Queen's Campus is set on the banks of the River Tees in Stockton, with a beauty and character of its own. Queen's delivers Durham University's world class research and professional and applied courses in business, education, health and wellbeing.

Innovating & leading

As one of the UK's leading institutions and a world top 100 university, Durham has always been a modern, forward looking university.

We were one of the first universities to admit women, to internationalise and award degrees in Africa (over 100 years ago), to develop the sciences, and the first to incorporate civil and mining engineering. We have research and alumni on every continent and in almost every country in the world.

Today, we are continuing to provide students with a first-class and unique student experience. Durham's distinctive approach to research-led teaching ensures that our programmes are cutting edge and intellectually stimulating, while the state-of-the-art Bill Bryson library and the newly opened Palatine Centre enable students to have easy access to all the services they need.

Influencing & informing Research, scholarships and ideas are at the core of Durham University.

We are home to some of the most talented researchers and scholars from around the world, tackling global issues, and making a difference to people's lives.

Research directly informs our undergraduate and postgraduate teaching, and in partnership with policy makers, industry, the public sector and communities around the world, shapes local, national and international agendas.

Durham University has nine multidisciplinary research institutes:

Biophysical Sciences Institute

Durham Energy Institute

Institute for Computational Cosmology

Institute for Particle Physics Phenomenology

Institute of Advanced Research Computing

Institute of Advanced Study

Institute of Hazard, Risk and Resilience

Institute of Medieval and Early Modern Studies

Wolfson Research Institute for Health and Wellbeing.

Our colleges

As a collegiate university, our 16 colleges play an important role in enhancing the academic and personal development of our students.

We encourage you to take part in college life by becoming a college mentor or member of the Senior Common Room (SCR).

Being a college mentor is an excellent way to become more involved in university life and develop new friendships. Our college mentor system helps foster a sense of community and provides support and advice to our students. Training is provided, along with regular events enabling you to meet other mentors and share experiences.

The SCR is a body made up of past and present members of the University, college tutors and local people with an interest in the college. It is an integral part of the life of any college, and holds a number of dinners, talks and social events throughout the year. Members are also able to use college facilities to meet colleagues and entertain visitors.

Staff benefits

A staff survey revealed:

82% think that Durham University offers a good pay, benefits and reward package

92% say that Durham University offers good pension schemes

Pensions – Durham University offers access to attractive, defined benefit pension schemes, notably the Universities Superannuation Scheme (USS) and the Durham University Pension Scheme (DUPS).

Key benefits include:

- Generous contributions from the University (currently 13% for DUPS and 16% for USS of your contractual salary).
- Tax relief on pension contributions.
- Reduced National Insurance contributions through Pensions+ (the payment of member contributions by salary sacrifice)
- Additional Voluntary Contributions.
- Life Assurance.

You may have noticed that the Government has, once again, reduced the tax relief on pension savings. If you are already a long standing member of the USS, when you join the University, it is important for you to ensure that you are aware of the impact of any increase in the value your pension as a consequence of joining the University and the implications in relation to HMRC's Annual Allowance.

More information is available from the HR Department on request. You could also refer to HMRC guidance at:

www.hmrc.gov.uk/pensionschemes/understanding-aa.htm (Annual Allowance).

www.hmrc.gov.uk/pensionschemes/understanding-la.htm (Lifetime Allowance).

Pay – Our graded pay structure is based on the principles of equal pay for work of equal value with incremental salary progression. Discretionary awards reward staff or groups of staff who make a special contribution and our Exceptional Contribution Payments (ECP) scheme rewards sustained, outstanding performance with permanent pay increases

Leave – You will be entitled to 39 or 42 days paid annual leave each year. This includes eight Bank Holidays and four Customary Days and is pro-rata for part-time staff.

The University is committed to supporting our staff by providing excellent additional paid leave schemes, such as maternity and paternity leave and research leave.

Professional development opportunities

The University provides a wide range of training courses for staff. Your department may also support you to gain an external qualification if it is linked to your role. Our Annual Staff Review aims to ensure there is regular dialogue between you and your manager about your development. The University has clear criteria and structures for academic probation, progression and promotion.

For more information, please see our staff benefits website.

County Durham & North East England

Located just a three hour train journey north of London, and an hour and a half south of Edinburgh, County Durham is a region steeped in history and natural beauty.

North East England's landmarks span millennia, from historical Roman and Norman World Heritage Sites to award-winning contemporary icons.

To the north of the region, and built in AD122 to mark the Roman Empire's northern frontier, Hadrian's Wall is just as awe-inspiring today. Its fellow World Heritage Site, Durham Cathedral and Castle, is one of the finest examples of Norman architecture in the world.

There are 15 National Nature Reserves in the region and over 250 Sites of Special Scientific Interest. There are more castles of distinction open to the public than in any other English region and numerous splendid country houses and gardens.

The market towns, villages and seaside resorts, with their distinctive character, historic buildings and friendly welcome are significant attractions in their own right. Long-established markets and shops selling local produce, arts and crafts are a shoppers' delight, with regional food specialities ranging from Craster's famous smoked kippers to traditional Lindisfarne Mead, stottie bread, cheese and handmade ice cream.

Shopping and eating out

Durham and Stockton are both well-served by local shops and out-of-town supermarkets, so all your daily essentials are within easy reach. There are two out-of-town retail parks in Durham and one in Stockton: the Arnison Centre (DH1 5GB), Dragonville (DH1 2WP) and Teeside Shopping Park (TS17 7BT). All three are served by local bus routes.

Along with many of the well known chain stores, Durham City Centre offers a number of hidden gems in the form of unique independent retailers, such as clothing boutiques and craft shops.

Durham's historic indoor market was named Best Private Market in the UK in 2011, and has stalls selling everything from groceries and clothing to household supplies and books. There is a Farmers' Market on the third Thursday of every month, providing an opportunity to buy quality fresh foods from local producers.

Stockton also hosts a market, which is one of the largest in the UK with over 150 stalls.

Further afield, Newcastle is a popular shopping destination, only 15 minutes by train from Durham. Just south of Newcastle (with good access by public transport) is Europe's largest shopping centre, intu Metrocentre in Gateshead.

For specialist foods, Newcastle and Stockton both have a number of shops stocking Halal meat as well as Asian and Continental ingredients at lower prices than in supermarkets.

Durham and Stockton have a choice of restaurants serving all types of cuisine at a range of prices, as well as many excellent cafés, bars and traditional pubs.

Durham Cathedral and Castle – a UNESCO World Heritage Site

Situated in the heart of the City, Durham World Heritage Site contains the Cathedral and Castle, both inspiring places to explore.

To most people the finest example of Norman architecture, Durham Cathedral is the burial place of St Cuthbert and the founder of European scholarship, the Venerable Bede. The Castle, originally built in the 11th century, is now home to the oldest of Durham University's colleges. The Cathedral and Castle are both open to the public, with guided tours available. There is also a Visitor Centre which provides more information about the World Heritage Site.

University attractions

As a member of staff, you can visit the following attractions for free with your campus card.

The Oriental Museum - the only museum in the North of Britain devoted entirely to the art and archaeology of the Orient.

Palace Green Library - holds Durham University's outstanding special collections, with treasures spanning millennia and the globe.

Botanic Garden - this beautiful 10 hectare garden is home to plant collections from around the world, including China, Japan, North America, South Africa, New Zealand and Chile.

Other places to visit

Crook Hall and Gardens - a 13th century Grade I listed medieval hall and themed gardens.

Durham Light Infantry Museum - a military museum which tells the story of one of the most famous County Regiments in the British Army.

National Railway Museum at Shildon - contains exhibitions which narrate the history of the railway from the 19th century to the present day.

Beamish Living Museum - an award-winning open-air museum which provides an interactive and hands-on exploration of life in early 20th century North East England.

Newcastle visitor attractions - Newcastle is home to a number of excellent museums including the Discovery Museum, the Great North Museum and the Life Science Centre, as well as several art galleries.

Castles and historic landmarks - the North East is home to more castles than any other English region. Highlights include Lindisfarne Castle, situated on the spectacular Holy Island, Raby Castle and Binchester Roman Fort.

Theatre, music and cinema

Across Durham and Queen's Campus there are 70 student theatre companies and musical groups performing a wide variety of high-quality shows.

The Gala Theatre, in Durham City centre, has a theatre and two cinema screens, and hosts a regular programme of live events and film screenings.

Newcastle has numerous theatre and film venues, including the Theatre Royal (regional home to the Royal Shakespeare Company) and Tyneside Cinema. Intu Metrocentre at Gateshead also hosts the ODEON IMAX Cinema which offers a VIP area, 3D screen and the first IMAX screen in the region.

Stockton's entertainment venues include the Stockton Arts Centre (ARC) and the Showcase Cinema Teesside.

Sport and the outdoors

Members of staff can benefit from discounted membership at The Graham Sports Centre (Durham) and Queen's Campus Sports Centre (Stockton), which offer high-quality facilities and a range of fitness classes.

There are also many opportunities in the region to take part in sporting activities. Both Durham and Stockton have excellent leisure centres – Freeman's Quay and Splash.

The North East contains some of England's most stunning countryside. There are many opportunities for a peaceful walk in a park (like Hardwick Park), through woodlands (try Hamsterley Forest), or alongside the River Wear. Further afield, there are miles of Heritage coastline to explore, as well as the North Pennines Area of Outstanding National Beauty and Northumberland National Park. In less than two hours drive you can get to the Lake District National Park, famous for its magnificent scenery.

Information for international staff

Work permits, certificates of sponsorship and visas

Your job offer from the University will be conditional on you proving that you have permission to live and work in the UK. You will have permission to work in the UK if:

- You are a national of the UK, European Economic Area (EEA) or Switzerland. The citizens of Bulgaria and Romania require a Work Permit which must be applied for by Durham University, as well as an Accession Worker Card.

Although Iceland, Liechtenstein and Norway are not members of the European Union (EU) their citizens have the same rights as EU citizens to enter, live in and work in the UK.

Furthermore from 1 July 2013, Croatia became a member of the European Union (EU).

- You currently have an unexpired Tier 1 (General) or Tier 1 Post Study Worker visa.
- You are a dependant, husband, wife or civil partner of a UK or EEA national or individual who has an existing right to work in the UK and you hold a dependant's visa.
- You have indefinite leave to remain in the UK or have a UK Ancestry visa.
- You have a valid student visa which entitles you to work part-time (20 hours per week during term-time and subject to the permission of your course supervisor).

If you do not belong to any of the above categories, you will be required to gain permission to work and live in the UK.

For further guidance you are advised to visit the UK Visas and Immigration \(UKVI\) website.

Furthermore, please take a look at our Immigration & Eligibility to Work and Home Office Immigration Requirements manuals.

Applying for a Visa

Once you have obtained permission to work, you will be directed by the UK VI on how to apply for a visa. Obtaining an entry and residence visa is your responsibility, and the University cannot act on your behalf. Obtaining permission to work does not guarantee that you or your family members will subsequently be given a visa. When you make a visa application you will have to pay the relevant fee and submit original copies of the documents requested, including your passport. If your visa application is approved you will be able to enter, reside and work in the UK for a specific period.

Owengate, Durham City.

Your first few weeks

Opening a UK bank account

There are a large number of banks in Durham and Stockton, and opening a bank account is a fairly quick and simple process, providing you have the correct documents. In order to confirm your identity and address, you are likely to need to provide the bank with the following (these must be original documents and not copies):

- Passport or EU National Identity Card
 - Evidence of your UK address (e.g. tenancy agreement)
 - Evidence of your address overseas (e.g. driving licence)
 - A bank statement from your existing providers (no more than three months old)
 - Confirmation of employment at Durham University (e.g. your offer letter).

National Insurance number

When you arrive in the UK, you will need to apply for a National Insurance Number (NINO) so your contributions to the UK National Insurance Scheme can be recorded. To apply for a NINO, call 0845 600 0643. You will then be sent an application form, or invited to attend an interview at the local Jobcentre Plus Office in Newcastle or Middlesbrough. Following this, you will be issued with your NINO.

Registering with a doctor

The National Health Service (NHS) is the publicly-funded healthcare system in the United Kingdom. If you are moving to England, you're entitled to free NHS treatment (along with your spouse or civil partner and children, if they live with you permanently). Like other UK residents you will pay some NHS charges (e.g. prescriptions) unless you are exempt. You may need to provide evidence to prove you live permanently in the UK, for example your job contract or tenancy agreement.

It is essential that you register with a local doctor (General Practitioner, GP) upon your arrival in the UK. To view a list of doctors' surgeries near you, visit the NHS website. You can also telephone NHS Direct on 111 if you are concerned about your health or require information about local healthcare services.

If you need medical treatment urgently, call 999 or go to the nearest Accident and Emergency. In Durham, go to the University Hospital of North Durham, North Road, DH1 5TW. In Stockton, go to the University Hospital of North Tees, Hardwick Road, TS19 8PE.

Driving in the UK

Before you can drive a motor vehicle in the UK, you must:

- be licensed to drive
- have valid insurance cover
- display a valid UK road tax disc on your car
- register the car if you are in the UK for six months or more.

For information on whether your licence is valid in the UK, visit the UK government website. The Highway Code is essential reading and contains full details of all UK driving regulations.

Police registration

If you need to register with the police, the requirement will be stamped in your passport and you must register within seven days of arriving in the UK. To register, you will need:

- Passport
- Visa or identity card
- Two passport-sized photographs
- £34 for the registration fee
- Offer letter/employment contract from Durham University
- Tenancy agreement as proof of address.

To make an appointment to register, telephone Durham Police on 0191 3752234 or email FNRO@durham.pnn.police.uk

If you are based at Queen's Campus, telephone Cleveland Police on 01642 301320 or email ForeignNationalsRegistrationUnit@cleveland.pnn.police.uk

Telephone line and Internet

To set up a telephone line and Internet connection in your property, you could contact one of the following companies: TalkTalk, Virgin Media, BT or Plusnet. To compare deals, you may want to visit a website such as Money Supermarket. It may take up to two weeks until your telephone line and Internet connection is ready for you to use.

Mobile phones

For details on how to use your current mobile phone in the UK, please contact your current provider.

If you would like to buy a mobile phone once you arrive in the UK, here is a list of some mobile phone providers, along with their contact details:

Carphone Warehouse

Durham: 19 Silver St, 0843 538 0046

O2

Durham: Prince Bishops Shopping Centre, 0191 383 9585
Stockton: Wellington Square Shopping Centre, 01642 618131

If you buy a phone on a pay monthly contract, you will need to provide proof of your signature (e.g. debit or credit card, passport) and UK address (e.g. driving licence, bank statement or utility bill).

Living in the UK

Cost of living

The cost of living in the UK varies depending on which area you live in. It is generally less expensive to live in the North than in the South of England. For examples of the cost of everyday items, you may wish to use this useful cost of living calculator. To compare costs in your own currency, you could use an online converter.

Council tax

When you rent or buy a property in England you have to pay council tax. Council tax is the system of taxation used to fund the services provided by the local authority such as the police service, fire service and refuse collection. The amount that you need to pay depends on where you live and the size of your property. Generally, the bigger your property is, the more tax will be charged. The full list of council tax charges is available on your local authority website:

- Durham
- Stockton
- Other local authority.

As soon as you move into your property, you should inform your local authority.

Income tax

Income arising in the United Kingdom is liable to UK income tax by HM Revenue & Customs. The amount you pay depends on how much you earn, and not all income is taxable. Income tax will automatically be deducted from your pay each month. The amount deducted will be indicated on your pay slip. Please check the government website for more information.

To calculate your net pay after deductions, you could use this online calculator.

Television (TV) Licence

“Durham, I have come to realise, has a capacity to astound out of all proportion to its size. I don’t know any place that manages to be more intimate and infinite at once.”

Bill Bryson,
international author and former Chancellor of Durham University
